

MED NEWS

HEADLINES FROM THE MEDITERRANEAN

Politics

Le Maire: Europe must stand firm against US aid to industry (POLITICO)

Europe needs to stand firm against US subsidies, says French finance minister, who did not rule out a WTO complaint. Read more here.

Syrian jihadi group exploits poverty in Idlib to attract new members (Al-Monitor)

Hayat Tahrir al-Sham, which controls Idlib, is taking advantage of the difficult living conditions of the people to attract more people into its ranks by offering high salaries. Read more here.

Moscow welcomes Algiers' desire to join BRICS (Al Mayadeen English)

Russia welcomes Algeria's intent to join the BRICS economic association after the latter submitted an official application. Read more here.

Greece shelve plans to sell off Alexandroupolis port (Port Technology International)

PM Kyriakos Mitsotakis said in a TV interview on 7 November that the port is too important of an asset to relinquish, following bids coming in for the port earlier this year. Read more here.

Environment

Tunisia's cows disappear into Algeria (Al-Monitor)

Tunisia's livestock is being increasingly smuggled to Algeria as a severe shortage of milk is hitting Tunisian markets. Read more here.

Spain's 'Prestige': The worst-ever oil spill in Europe 'could happen again' (The Local)

Twenty years after the oil tanker "Prestige" broke apart off the coast of northwestern Spain, covering thousands of kilometres (miles) of Atlantic coast with crude oil and killing 200,000 seabirds, some fear it could happen again. Read more here.

Mediterranean region 'most affected' by climate change: UfM (The Nation)

A pavilion for the Mediterranean countries was inaugurated on the sidelines of the UN climate summit (COP27), currently underway in Egypt's seaside city of Sharm el-Sheikh. Read more here.

Turkey's Climate Plan Points to 32% Rise in Emissions by 2030

The country avoided a commitment to halt new coal, and it was silent on the issue of phasing out existing plants in its new climate targets submission. Read more here.

Culture & Archeology

Archaeologists find a Roman military watchtower in Morocco for the first time (Arkeonews)

A Roman military watchtower the first of its kind was discovered by a team of Polish and Moroccan archaeologists in the ancient city of Volubilis, northern Morocco. Read more here.

Vergina: Where Proof of Macedonia's Greek Origin Was Uncovered (The Greek Reporter)

On November 8, 1977, Greek archaeologist Manolis Andronikos found proof of Macedonia's Greek roots at Vergina (Aigai), a small town in northern Greece. Read more here.

Ancient Greek Bathhouse Unearthed in Egypt (The Greek Reporter)

A 2,200 year-old ancient Greek bathhouse has reportedly been discovered in the ancient Egyptian seaport town of Berenike on the western shore of the Red Sea. Read more here.

Egyptian amulet discovered in Roman-era ruins in Turkey (Egypt Today)

14 November 2022: Archaeologists excavating the ruins of the Roman era in the ancient city of Amasra [Amastris] in Turkey have unearthed a strange discovery of a seal on an Egyptian amulet depicting the shape of a pyramid with hieroglyphs and ancient Egyptian symbols engraved on it, providing an element of mystery and suspense surrounding the discovery. Read more here.

Caricature of the Week

You can find the original link here.

End of Med News